Man Nichols Asks $15,000 And
Carl Latham $10,000 As Result
Of Severe Injuries Received

Suits for damages totaling $26,500 were filed Monday in the Clay county court against the Great Central Transport corporation, and Harry Crawford, a truck driver, by Carl Latham, Sherman Nichols, Leo Girton, the Rockcliffe, and Fred Burnett. Latham is seeking $15,000 damages; Nichols, $10,000; Girton, $300; Rockcliffe, $750; and Burnett, $500. On May 1, the men were riding east on the National road in an Oldsmobile driven by Carl Latham. At a point on the west side of the village of Manhattan, Harry Crawford, driver of one of the defendant company's trucks, negligently drove into the south half of the concrete road, colliding head-on with the Oldsmobile car.

All in the Oldsmobile were more or less injured. Nichols suffered concussion of the brain, cuts and lacerations, cuts on face requiring 72 stitches to close, broken nose and various other injuries and nervous shock resulting in nervousness and rendering him unable to sleep and rest.

Latham, who was knocked unconscious, was cut and bruised by blows to the face, suffered injury of inner ear, left arm was broken above the elbow, rib was torn loose, teeth thrust thru his lips, suffered concussion to the brain, resulting in headaches and making him unable to sleep and rest and ruining his earning capacity. Rawley & Stewart are attorneys for all the plaintiffs.

THE NAMES CONSIDERED FOR FEDERAL RELIEF POST

INDIANAPOLIS, July 17 (UP)—A man announced last week as a candidate for director of the federal emergency relief administration in Indiana, were being considered again after Arthur Ball, Muncie, died of the post.

Gov. Paul V. McNutt said Ball was able to accept due to press of private business.

The Governor had been particularly anxious for Ball to take the position because of the latter's record as Delaware county relief chairman.

With Ball out of consideration, Jay Nesberger, Goshen; Otto Jensen, Ellettsville; Rollin Haynes, Nebraska; executive, Melton Salwasser, La Porte, and Orla Heim, Evansville, are candidates for the position.

The relief chairmanship was made vacant several weeks ago when William H. Book resigned to become executive vice-president of the Indianapolis chamber of commerce.

Governor McNutt said that the person who takes over the job must be familiar with relief activities in Indiana and must meet the approval of federal relief officials.

Work of the state unemployment commission is coordinated closely with activities of the National government.

Book's position carried a salary of $5,000 per year. It was understood that had Ball accepted the position, he would have worked without salary, the money to have been used for a full-time assistant.

SIGNS ARE BADLY NEEDED

On Monday afternoon, we stood near the intersection of Jackson and Washington streets in Greencastle and saw several out of the city automobiles trying to follow state road 43 through Greencastle. Those who did not know the road turned north at that corner, drove on west in Washington street, only to come back and make inquiry as to where they lost road 43.

There are two signs in the middle of the block on the south side of the square, but there is no sign at the intersection posts indicating that the state road runs north.

Some kind of a sign should be placed on these posts making it possible for strangers to follow the road without trouble. It may be that the signs were removed when the street was repaved, but there was hardly any occasion to take them off the light posts, as the posts were not moved.

Someone should attend to this immediately, we believe.

The Observer.

PROBE ALIBI OF PEDDLER IN CONNORS KIDNAPING CASE

HARTSDALE, N. Y., July 17 (UP)—Two years old Robert Connor, missing since last Thursday was reported found alive today in the woods near his home.

HARTSDALE, N. Y., July 17, (UP)—Harry Lee Forestier, 51 year old itinerant peddler held as a suspect in the mysterious disappearance of 21 months old Bobby Connor, was taken through the streets of Hartsdale today to reconstruct his alibi.

While police admitted they had no evidence to support their belief that Forestier had seen or talked with the Connor child on Thursday, the day of disappearance, they charged the peddler's alibi was "built on lies and evasions."

Each house he had called on with his wares and each street he had travelled were to be visited again today.

Forestier, District Attorney T. D. Scoble disclosed, babbled throughout a night of questioning that he had known of the Lindbergh kidnaping six months before it occurred, and that he had gone to police with this information. He denied, however, any connection with the Connor case.

Return Runaways To Orphan's Home

TERRE HAUTE BOYS PERMITTED TO GO WITHOUT FILING OF CHARGES

Doris Rader and Waneta McGuire, both 15 years old, runaways from an orphanage at East Columbus, who were caught here early Monday morning in company of two Terre Haute young men, were returned to the orphanage Monday afternoon by the institution superintendent. A third runaway from the orphanage, Alfreda Crowder, who was apprehended at Clay City, also was taken back to the institution.

The Terre Haute boys, Paul Howard Fagg and John Edward Fagg, brothers, were released without charges being filed against them. The Fagg boys said they met the two girls at a young people's church meeting in Terre Haute Sunday evening and had been out all night with them.

The girls ran away from the orphanage two weeks ago and had been staying with relatives in Terre Haute and Clay City.

Church 100 Years Old This Month

MEMBERS OF STILESVILLE
CHURCH PLAN CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

The Stilesville Christian church will celebrate its one hundredth anniversary the last week of July. The church was organized in 1834, two miles south of Stilesville at what was then Osborn's mill, but now is known as the Walnut Grove cemetery. In 1842 a church was built in Stilesville which burned in 1878. The present building was erected in 1880.

An attractive centennial program has been planned. Thursday evening, July 26, there will be an historical lecture with pictures by C. W. Cauble. On Saturday, July 28, at 5:30, services will be held at Walnut Grove. At that time a bronze tablet marking the original site of the church will be dedicated. Rev. Lee Tinsley, pastor of the Little Flat Rock church, will give the address.

An all-day service with a basket dinner at noon is planned for Sunday, July 29. In the afternoon there will be talks by older members and former pastors and a roll call of charter members to be answered by their descendants. The old church organ has been placed in the church and will be played by J. L. Osborn of Plainfield, who was for many years church organist. Of particular interest will be a collection of antiques which will be on exhibit during the day.

MINNEAPOLIS TRUCK DRIVERS START STRIKE

GOVERNOR ORDERS SOLDIERS
INTO CITY UPON REQUEST OF OFFICIALS

GENERAL STRIKE FEARED

Union Laundry Workers Vote Walk-out Unless Conference With Employers Is Satisfactory.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 17, (UP)—One battalion of the 151st Field Artillery, Minnesota national guard, today was ordered out for duty as a precautionary measure in the truck drivers' strike.

The order for troops came from Adjutant General E. A. Walsh in St. Paul.

The troops were called after Mayor A. G. Bainbridge requested Gov. Floyd B. Olson to call the militia to aid civil authorities in maintaining order.

Bainbridge said he had been officially informed that the local teamsters union had again struck, and that experience in a similar strike in May showed that Minneapolis police were unable to cope with the situation without outside help.

In the May strike two men were killed and nearly 300 others injured in street riots.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 17, (UP)—Six thousand truck drivers and freight haulers struck at 4 a. m. today, paralyzing all but a few types of commercial traffic. Labor leaders threatened a general strike within the week.

Union laundry workers who would tie up an industry employing 1,500 men and women voted to strike if a conference with employers tonight is unsatisfactory.

Carloads of striking drivers cruised over the city, warning all commercial vehicles except those holding union permits to stay off the streets. Automobiles were parked to block warehouse driveways.

A reinforced police department, with all but a few plain clothes men transferred to the uniformed reserve and all men working 12-hour shifts, prepared nervously for possible riots.

Two men were beaten to death, 300 injured and scores arrested in battles during a similar strike in May between police, special deputy sheriffs and pickets who halted movement of trucks into and from the central produce market.

The strikers exempted from their embargo today bakery trucks, taxicabs, gasoline and oil trucks, milk wagons, ice trucks, brewery trucks, city and sanitary department vehicles and newspaper trucks. Union drivers, however, were required on all vehicles.

Farmers were permitted to deliver produce directly to groceries. Even these essential services were threatened by plans for a sympathetic general strike of the city's 25,000 union members.

Roy Weir, president of the Central Labor Union, said that 112 affiliated unions would be asked to vote walk-outs immediately.

Gov. Floyd B. Olson, exhausted by almost continuous conferences with representatives of 22 warehouse firms and their employees for more than two weeks, announced that the national guard would not be mobilized "until there is justification for this action."

Almost 3,000 drivers disdained a secret ballot in approving the strike last night.

A roar of "ayes" revealed their militant spirit and confirmed action of leaders who refused last minute requests for a postponement to permit further negotiations with employers.

ROOSEVELT DUE AT TINY
CLIPPERTON ISLAND TODAY

ABOARD U.S.S. NEW ORLEANS, July 17, (UP)—President Roosevelt, in the cruiser Houston, was due at tiny Clipperton island today for probably his last day's fishing until he reaches the Hawaiian islands late this month.

The president spent a quiet day yesterday, as the Houston and New Orleans sped out into the Pacific. There was no word from him regarding the San Francisco general strike.

During the day the two cruisers engaged in minor maneuvers.

Burned a deep brown by tropical sun, the president was looking ruggedly healthy. A lover of the sea, he seemed to be having the time of his life on his 15,000 mile vacation cruise.

1800 TEXTILE WORKERS STRIKE IN ALABAMA

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 17, (UP)—Approximately 18,000 textile workers—more than half of the workers employed in the state—went on strike in various parts of Alabama today.

In the large textile centers upstate, the strike appeared to be completely effective. Operations continued, however in many mills in the Chattanooga valley section.

The strike was called today when negotiations for increased wages and better working conditions collapsed.

Prediction that the strike would tie up all mills by the end of the week were made by W. O. Hare, secretary of the state federation of labor.

GAS MONEY AVAILABLE FOR BONDS

COUNTY ATTORNEY SAYS
MONEY CAN BE USED UPON
RECEIPT OF OPINION

TAXPAYERS SAVED $62,400

County Auditor Will Issue Checks to Bond Holders at Office in Courthouse

Holders of county unit and township road bonds of Putnam county which were due in 1933 will be issued checks upon presentation of these bonds at the county auditor's office, it was announced by W. A. Cooper, auditor, Tuesday.

Money for payment of these bonds was set aside from the gasoline fund in 1933 but the amount set aside was held intact pending the outcome of a suit filed in circuit court to test legality of the action.

A recent opinion handed down in the Indiana supreme court upheld an opinion of the Putnam circuit court that the gasoline tax could be used for this purpose. Payments due bondholders, however, were still withheld until the supreme court ruling became final.

County Attorney John H. James informed the auditor that the opinion had become final following receipt by the Putnam county clerk of a certified copy of the supreme court decision.

A total of $18,256 was set aside from the gasoline fund to retire county unit road bonds due in 1933 and a total of $44,203.31 was set aside to pay township road bonds. Thus payment of these amounts from the gasoline fund will relieve taxpayers from being taxed for this amount.

Raymond Beaver, Rensselaer, defeated Bill Roberts, Greencastle, 5 and 3.

SAN FRANCISCO STRIKE ON! TROOPS RUSHED

San Francisco citizens besieged grocery stores to lay in provisions against the strike period. Here is a crowd "stocking up" with non-perishable foodstuffs. ## Dodson Committed To Farm By Mayor

COLORED MAN HAS SUSPENSION OF SIX MONTHS SENTENCE
REVOKED

Levi Dodson, 42 years old, south Greencastle colored man, who had a six months sentence on the Indiana state farm and a fine of $50, suspended in city court July 2 on condition that he leave the city, had the penalty revoked Tuesday by Mayor W. L. Denman when city police caught him back in Greencastle.

Dodson was convicted in city court by the mayor on a charge of assault and battery on Mollie Alston, his former wife. The assault is alleged to have occurred last June 23.

Mayor Denman gave Dodson his choice of serving six months and paying a fine of $50 and costs, or of leaving the city. Dodson chose to leave town.

Monday night city police were notified that Dodson was back at the home of Mrs. Alston. They surrounded the house and Dodson ran out a back door into their arms. He was lodged in the county jail and Tuesday morning was committed to the penal farm by Mayor Denman.

SAN FRANCISCO STRIKERS NOW TOTAL 75,000

OAKLAND AND OTHER UNION
WORKERS IN BAY AREA
IN WALKOUTS TODAY

TROOPS GUARD FOOD TRUCKS

Street Car Service Is Resumed But
Main Ferry System Is Tied Up Due To Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17 (UP)—An estimated 20,000 union men in Oakland and adjoining cities joined the San Francisco Bay region general strike at 8 a. m. today, making a total of 75,000 men striking in the Bay area.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17, (UP)—The first truck load of produce to arrive in the wholesale produce district since Thursday was delivered this morning, making the first dent in the blockade by the general strike of San Francisco's food supply.

It rolled in from Stockton, Calif., 80 miles away, and delivered its cargo under the protection of national guardsmen, who occupied the district yesterday.

Other developments of the early morning were:

Street railway service was resumed without the use of guards and apparently on normal schedule by the municipal railways of San Francisco.

Employees of the Oakland street railway system walked out, tying up the Key system ferry on San Francisco bay. Other ferries continued to run.

Mayor W. J. McCracken of Oakland appealed to citizens to register at the city hall for emergency duty. He was anticipating the coming of the general strike to his city, set for 8 a. m.

Efforts to break the grip of the general strike were made at 5 a. m. today when municipal street railway cars moved from their barns after being tied up for 24 hours.

Officials said cars would be on regular schedule. No guards were on the first cars to leave. Police were on duty at car barns. There were few strike pickets in evidence.

Resumption of operations by the lines was considered a test in the strike situation. It could not be conclusive, however, as yesterday the general strike committee, over violent objections of the left wing, approved return of the municipal carmen to work.

Daybreak found the city generally quiet.

Police reports showed 24 arrests yesterday afternoon and last night for strike offenses—refusing to move on when ordered, disturbing the peace and the like. There were a few cases of men being beaten and of intimidation, but nothing of major importance.

"This is a victory for the city administration and sound sense," said E. G. Cahill, manager of public utilities commenting on the resumption of service on the Municipal car lines. "It is in no sense a concession on the part of any labor group or a victory for them."

The Key route ferry system operating between San Francisco and Oakland, Berkeley, and Alameda, failed to open for service this morning.

Strike of carmen, which caused the trainmen to walkout on the electric trains running in connection with the ferry, closed down the entire system.

The Southern Pacific ferry, serving much the same territory, continued to operate. Most of the Key system commuters were using the Southern Pacific boats and trains.

At the end of the first hour of operation on the San Francisco Municipal (Continued on Page Two)

CLEVELAND (UP)—Cleveland laundry bags reveal a secret these very summer days. It's the fact that men sleep without pajama tops, without pajama bottoms. And by other males, according to the (laundry) don't sleep in any.

We have a lot more bottoms than to launder," said Charles R. Simpson of the Family Wet Wash Laundry. "Most of our customers for the bottoms," M. G. Clark, of Madison Laundry, admitted most their summer bundles had only tops in them.

Miss Esther Kaplan, Snow White Laundry: "It's all bottoms out here."

Golf News from the Local Links

Bill Roberts and Bobby Wallace, two youthful stars from the Greencastle Country Club, qualified for the state junior tournament now underway on the West Lafayette links.

Roberts clubbed his way around the 18-hole course in 77 and Wallace was right behind him with a card of 78. Roberts posted a 28-39 and Wallace a 39-39. Fred Brandt, another local boy failed to qualify but turned in a fairly good score when he shot the course in an 88.

This morning Wallace exchanged strokes with Bobby Dale, of Indianapolis, defending champion. Dale barely got in the money yesterday with a card of 80. Roberts was scheduled to meet R. Beacer from Rensselaer.

A "monkey golf" tourney is being planned at Northwood for Sunday. This kind of a match has also been termed "crazy" golf or what have you. Some of the stunts will probably include driving a ball off a bottle; hitting at the little pellet blindfolded; standing in a barrel and shooting; and many other tricky obstacles. Of course no par breaking scores are registered in these tournaments but everybody, including spectators, have a lot of fun.

The Morton baseball team lost to Knightsville Sunday by a score of 7 to 5. Morton plays at Russellville next Sunday. A real game is expected.

LETTERS READ AT ANNUAL BLACK SCHOOL MEETING

Mrs. Lucy Howard, secretary of the Black School Association, read some interesting letters at the annual meeting last Sunday. They were from former students who were unable to attend. Two of these are the following:

Crivitz, Wis., July 6, 1934.

Dear Lucy:

The best news I have received lately was your promise of a long letter to me soon. So I write in a more cheerful vein than is possible when it is all going out with nothing coming in.

It seems to me you have a great deal of enterprise to keep these reunions going, so many years after some of us attended school in the country. No doubt the school district has ceased to exist, as such, because of so much centralization of schools.

Most all the school going I did before starting to preparatory school at DePauw, better known as "Prep," was to Black school. I had two winters with Miss Parrott as teacher and one with Mr. Whelan. I can truly say I believe that few country schools of that day, or any day, had as good teachers as those two. I am thankful to have had their good influence and efficient teaching in those most impressionable years.

Those teachers could not have been paid in dollars and cents commensurate with the good they did. Perhaps their greatest desires were to get results in the satisfactory advancement both mentally and morally, of their pupils. Such sacrifice as theirs could not have been in vain. More than fifty years have passed since I sat before those two noble teachers and I can say that the good they did me is still active. Their memories are very dear to me.

I can not hope to attend one of the Black school reunions. We have two homes and our speedometer registers over 1,000 miles in going from one to the other. From about May 10 to Oct. 10, we are in our cabin here in the Wisconsin woods, where we see deer nearly every day, where porcupine waddle across our yard often. Squirrels, rabbits, a great variety of birds and even snakes are numerous and friendly. We grow lovely flowers and a good vegetable garden. We live close to nature, leading quiet, care free lives and believe we are benefitted thereby.

The winter months in Florida are much more strenuous because we are in town, mingling with people all the time. Our trips back and forth, spring and fall by auto, are enjoyable. My best wishes and cordial greetings to each and every one of you old Black school pupils.

Addie Priest Dorsett.

Minot, N. D., July 6.

Lucy Fox Howard,

Dear Lucy:

Your card in regard to the picnic reached me. Please give all the schoolmates and friends my best regards, and greetings.

Hope you have a good picnic and wish I could be with you. We are both well and busy as usual. Since the rains things look quite different. Best wishes from Bertha T. Anderson.

LINK BREWER KIDNAPING WITH JEWEL ROBBERY

CHICAGO, July 17. — Tangled trails of crime crossed into ramifications of a $250,000 mail robbery and the $200,000 unsolved kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, wealthy St. Paul brewer, as authorities today claimed solution of the $87,000 Zukor jewels robbery.

In custody were four women and two men. Detective Chief William Shoemaker asserted that two of the women, whom he refused to designate, stole the jewels from Mrs. Adolph Zukor, while she slept in her hotel room on July 14. The loot was recovered.

Those detained were James Weinberg, 33 years old; his wife, Eula, 33; her sister, Elsie Delaney, 28; Miss Delaney's roommate, Dorothy Jacobs, 27; Robert Vestal, 29, and Helen, his wife, 32.

Shoemaker said that Weinberg, a saloon and cafe operator, was under indictment with several others as a result of a $250,000 mail robbery in Chicago's loop on Dec. 6, 1932. Also indicted was John J. "Boss" McLaughlin, former state assemblyman, and Edgar Lebensberger, owner of the swanky 225 club.

Lebensberger was found dead, a bullet in his head and a revolver by his side in his luxurious apartment, a few hours before the indictments were made public. He was accused of disposing of securities taken in the mail robbery.

The fact that McLaughlin also was indicted recently on charges of possessing ransom money in the Bremer case led to the supposition that there was some link between persons involved in both the mail robbery and the Bremer abduction, police said.

Melvin H. Purvis, head of the local office of the federal bureau of investigation, said he planned to have operatives question Weinberg concerning the Bremer case.

JAMES J. DOOLING SELECTED AS TAMMANY HALL CHIEF

NEW YORK, July 17.—Tammany Hall, leaderless nearly three months and split into angry warring factions reunited peacefully yesterday in selecting James J. Dooling as its chief-tain and moved to rebuild its waning power on a foundation of expected federal patronage.

The election of Dooling, 41 year old attorney, brought the New York Democracy into accord with a national administration for the first time since the civil war—for Dooling was tacitly supported by Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Dooling's election marked also the complete withdrawal of John F. Curry, deposed former ruler of the wigwam, from the councils of the 150 year old society. Curry resigned from the executive committee as the meeting opened.

The executive committee heard the formal withdrawal of Stephen A. Ruddy, Dooling's sole opponent, and then cast a unanimous ballot for the former Fordham football star, one of the youngest men ever to sit on Tammany's high ruling board.

Tammany had been bereft of leadership since April 20, when the rising tide of dissatisfaction with Curry culminated in his ouster, the first time in the hall's history that a leader has been ousted.

The new leader inherited his political mantle three years ago at the death of his father, Peter J. Dooling, for 39 years leader of the southern part of the Fifth Assembly district.

He first achieved political distinction by rebelling against the Curry dictatorship a year ago. He opposed the leader's selection of a judicial candidate and won his fight. This victory made him the logical generalissimo of the anti-Curry forces last spring.

ALABAMA'S RANKS OF GRAY THIN RAPIDLY

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—Only 425 veterans remain in the rapidly thinning ranks of the Confederate Army in Alabama, W. K. McAdory, secretary of the Alabama Pension Commission, said recently.

Approximately 3,000 widows of veterans draw pensions, however, bringing the total pension payments to $425,000 for the past quarter.

He said that if the present rate of reduction continues, Alabama will have few of the old soldiers left by 1940.

CHAPTER XV

For more than an hour Blondie and Larry had been sitting at a gay little table in one of the most exclusive and modern speakeasies in town. When Blondie had met Larry on the stage, after she had visited Lulline in the dressing room, Larry said he was going to keep his promise and take her to the best speakeasy that had evaded the raiding officers.

Implicitly Blondie followed Larry from the theatre until they arrived at an imposing door. They were ushered into a smart, startlingly modern room, and Blondie gasped. A beautiful bar at one end of the room, a glittering dance floor, an orchestra in evening dress, soft colors throughout the room bathed in the mellowest of lights, made the place inviting and to Blondie, pleasantly fantastic.

The cafe was almost deserted, except for the soft-moving, courteous waiters. Larry explained that the place was patronized mainly by the theatre crowd.

Nations Vie in Air for South American Trade

Transatlantic seaplane

Graf Zeppelin

Over the vast south Atlantic, European companies are weaving a firm network of air routes from Seville, Spain, to Natal and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, putting into use flying boats, dirigibles and mid-ocean docks. A strenuous struggle by air for new trade markets in Latin America has made formidable rivals of Germany and France, and soon

PERNAMBUCO, (I.N.N.)—Rivalry on a new front has arisen among nations striving for world markets. This time aviation is the method by which Germany, France, Italy and the United States are competing for the trade plums in South America.

For generations, one of the great and seemingly insurmountable obstacles to South American trade has been the great distance of the Latin American republics from their large sources of imports in Europe and the U. S. Goods, such as machinery, replacements, parts, necessitated two-week delays before they could be delivered from North America by fast steamer, and three weeks from Europe.

With the invention of the airplane and the airship, the great handicap of distance began to fade away rapidly.

One large airways concern has established numerous landing harbors for their fleet of huge four-motored "clipper" amphibians carrying 48 passengers, express and mail loads. Winging their way over the Caribbean sea the air craft have speeded up commerce, bringing Rio de Jan-

Italy will join the race. So far, Germany has set the pace. This has been due mainly to its Graf Zeppelin, which for two years has maintained a schedule between Europe and South America, and the fact that it has established the freighter, Westfalen, in mid-Atlantic to refuel the huge flying boats winging their way between the continents.

129, is rapidly nearing completion, and eventual plans call for one more dirigible in the long non-stop route, which has its European terminus in Seville, Spain, due to the unsuitability of Germany's climate during winter months.

The other German scheme of scheduled transatlantic aviation has as its feature the Westfalen, a 5,000 ton freighter equipped with a catapult, which cruises within a limited area in the South Atlantic between Bathurst, Africa and Natal, Brazil, as a floating airport for seaplanes.

Six hours out from Bathurst, the seaplane finds the freighter's position by radio and then settles down on a sea calmed by a drag sail towed by the steamer. A huge 120,000,000 candlepower searchlight and flares are aboard for night duty.

France also has joined the race. With typical Gallic daring, it is planning a non-stop, 2,000-mile route from Senegal to Natal to be traversed in 18 to 24 hours.

Premier Mussolini, jealous of any foreign successes, has planned an air mail service from Rome to Buenos Aires via Dakar, Africa, Natal, and Rio de Janeiro.

Federal Housing Bill Paces New Industrial Drive

Row of individual homes, counterpart of which soon may arise through the new federal drive on housing.

James A. Moffett

With the signature of President Roosevelt attached to the new national housing bill, a new drive begins on the heavy industries, the first attack being centered on new home building. James A. Moffett, former oil tycoon, and now an enthusiastic New Dealer, is pushing the campaign. The Home Owners' Loan corporation is lending millions to owners unable to obtain financing elsewhere, but this bill primarily is to stimulate private enterprise with the federal government acting as an insurer for mortgage loans up to 80 per cent in value for new construction. The drive, if successful, should send new economic blood coursing throughout business veins of the nation, since the building industry was among the first to feel the forces of the depression.

WASHINGTON, D. C., (I.N.)—A frontal attack is now in progress on the last of the recovery holdouts—the durable or heavy goods industries, which so far have failed to improve under the wiles of the Roosevelt New Deal.

Primary among the holdouts has been the building industry which began to flop back in 1927 when people, inundated by the flood of Coolidge "prosperity" decided to expend their wages for autos and radios, go on installment spree, and indulge in stock market speculation.

Slums Increased

Steadily down went construction expenditures, and when the depression dropped fully upon the nation, building was practically annihilated. The lean years since 1929 brought more and more dilapidation to houses, especially among the poorer classes where the slums exceeded in squalor the infamous dwellings which social legislation had partly eradicated at the turn of the century.

Last year, President Roosevelt through the Home Owners Loan corporation aided over 341,162 home owners in the nation, disbursing over a billion dollars.

But this sum had been used only to save home owners from being dispossessed, mortgage payments being merely extended. It remained for the second step—the national housing bill—to aid both financing of entirely new construction and repair work on old homes.

To direct the national housing program, the chief executive appointed handsome James A. Moffett, whose espousal of the New Deal philosophy last year in regard to NRA resulted in a disagreement with his chief, Walter C. Teague, of a New Jersey oil company, had brought his resignation from his $100,000 a year job to become a Roosevelt enthusiast.

"Money will flow to home owners for modernization within a month," says Director Moffett. "Renovation will get the first money, and soon to follow will be mortgage insurance and mortgage association provisions."

Insures Lenders

Through the bill, the administration expects the basic building industry to absorb nearly 5,000,000 carpenters, masons, plasterers, plumbers, and hundreds in other crafts which were dropped by the wayside as construction gradually disappeared.

The new housing program is to depend solely on private capital and initiative, with the federal government merely insuring private lenders against 80 per cent of losses on mortgages up to $16,000 on new construction. Not only homes, but four-story apartment blocks, or apartments with ground stores, are eligible for insurance, provided they meet with the financial terms of the housing act.

An amendment to the HOLC provisions has removed the bar against home owners who have been unable elsewhere to refinance repairs or reconditioning. The government has set aside $300,000,000 for such work, and over 288,000 applications have already been received for an average loan request of $200. This is an indication of the gigantic need for urgent renovation throughout the nation which has been waiting merely for some method of financing.

Should Director Moffett's drive prove successful the rising black line of building charts may prove the vanguard of a definite returning prosperity.
